TRAINING AND ASSESSMENT SYSTEMS

Thriving in Turbulent Times

Anil Thomas

Mustard Seed is collectively owned and promoted by a group of HR Professionals and counsellors and was founded with a vision to revolutionize 'the learning experience'. We use the concept of 'learning by doing' and drive various learning objectives through carefully designed experiential activities called simulations. Our unique and effective style of facilitation is a pleasant relief from the one way downloading class room sessions and offers a platform for participative learning. Our focus is to work on behaviours which directly impact the business outcomes.

Anil Thomas

Conference Alive

4 Hours

Conference Alive can be attached as a four hour session to Annual Company Conference, Dealer Meets, Product Launches, Budget Meets, or Any occasion when your people gather together. These are wonderful opportunities to connect with a larger section of your people. Remarkable impact can be achieved by linking these events to Corporate Learning Initiatives

We specialize in rolling out these really crisp sessions for large groups (50 –500 participants). These sessions can be used to effectively kick off or wrap up a companywide conference. The format is fast paced, engaging and packed with energy and enthusiasm.

Strong and interesting themes such as Managing Change, Leadership Excellence, Team Synergy etc. can be addressed powerfully using a combination of skillfully delivered keynote address and customized Experiential Simulations.

Long after the conference, people will remember both the excitement and the learning.

Breathe Life into your agenda by

- Creating a better buy-in for your conference objectives
- Facilitating an environment conducive for open communication
- Overcoming the Pattern of Silo Based thinking/ behavior
- Leveraging the power of Win-Win approach
